

Moliere Dimanche Questionnaire Responses

Governor

1. What motivated you to run for office?

"Public Corruption. From predatory foreclosures, malicious prosecutions and infringements on the right to Peaceably Assemble, the government we currently have does not serve the People. That's going to change when I take office. For now, what we expect from the government only works when you know the right people. Next year, it will work for the People."

2. What is your professional experience, and how does that experience qualify you for the office you are seeking?

"As a FedEx driver, I can't say that I am a career politician. However, "experience" and a career in politics is what got us in this mess. Some of these people have been in public office since the 80s and we've had the same problems with corruption since the 80s, and in many ways, it's gotten worse. I'm an American who truly believes in the Constitution, and that's what has been missing in government."

3. If elected, what will be your top priorities?

"Recovering wasted money; Using that money to advance the elimination of property taxes; Making home ownership truly attainable by using a lottery system for abandoned properties; Eliminating the push for data centers; Developing an online portal for residents to track government spending and call hearings."
